New Concept in Boating – Timeshare Anyone?

There's a brand new Sailing School and Boat Rental facility at Lake Monroe, and they're bringing with them a great new concept – a Boating Club. "It works much like a timeshare; you pay a low monthly fee, then you have access to the boats pretty much anytime you want," says Denise Burchard, who owns FUN Maritime Academy along with husband Willie Blevins.

"Right," adds Blevins, "and you have fringe benefits, like access to our events and sailing races. Why own a boat, pay the high payments, insurance and slip fees when you only use your boat once a month? FMA is a great solution, especially in today's economy."

FMA, the "Floating Boating School" is located at Monroe Harbour Marina on Lake Monroe in Sanford. The first business to open as part of the Sanford Riverwalk, FMA is poised for growth. "It's our mission to make Lake Monroe the Boating Headquarters of Central Florida," says Blevins. With sailing and boating instruction, boat rentals and now the Boating Club, FUN Maritime Academy provides a much needed service for Central Florida. "FMA will not only benefit the community by promoting a great family sport, but it will stimulate business for local merchants because of the clientele we attract," says Burchard.
